

DEATHS

DR. NEWTON MCVEY, assistant physician of the Colony, died in Kansas City on Sept. 2d after a lingering illness. Mr. McVey's health was so poor several months ago that he decided to return to his former home in Kansas City to recuperate, but grew worse till he died. Dr. McVey came here about a year ago. He was a very capable and pleasant gentleman and his many friends will be pained to learn of his death.

OLA BOSTON, the fifteen year-old son of James Boston, died at New Frankfort on Sept. 10th after suffering terribly for a week from a rising in his head. Blood poisoning set in and caused death. He was a good boy and had many friends. Burial in New Frankfort cemetery last Thursday.

SIE DECKARD, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Deckard, died at Bisbee, North Dakota, on Monday, Sept. 9, 1912 at 7 o'clock p. m. at the age of 31 years, 6 months and 16 days. The remains arrived here Friday evening accompanied by his father and mother who were called to his bedside two weeks ago. Mr. Deckard died of a complication of diseases and all that medical skill and loving hands could do was done for him, but the Lord called him.

The funeral services were held at the Baptist church at Union on Saturday, Sept. 14th conducted by Rev. Cane pastor of the M. E. church South of Malta Bend, and remains interred in the Union cemetery.

Mr. Deckard is survived by his father and mother, four brothers, and three sisters. The brothers are John, Joe, Archie and Denzil. The sisters are Mrs. Richard Stockman, Mrs. Joe Hildebrand and Mrs. Sheley of Kentucky.

Biographies and obituaries can say nothing that will benefit the dead. We know however that an earnest, active life is ended. We know that the record of a young man of indomitable energy and unflagging industry is closed and he was a young man of youth and vigor, honesty and industry and will be greatly missed.

Tell me my secret soul,
O, tell me Hope and Faith
Is there no resting place
From sorrow, sin and death?
Is there no happy spot
Where mortals may be blest
Where grief may find a balm,
And Weariness a rest?

Faith, Hope and Love, best boons to mortals given,
Waved their bright wings,
And whispered—"Yes in Heaven".

LOUISE JEWELL CRUMP. The Angel of death broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Crump and took from their loving arms their darling baby, Louise Jewell, Sept. 10, 1912, of cholera infantum. The little child took sick on Sunday and was sick eight days when Jesus called her to his loving arms, for did he not say "suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto me for their's is the kingdom of heaven." All that loving hands and tender care and all medical aid could do would not keep her here. Her life was short but she was much loved by her parents as well as by all who knew her. At the time of her death she was 19 months and fifteen days old. She is now resting in the arms of Jesus who knows all things well, and some day we hope to meet her where we shall never part. She leaves loving parents, and one little brother who shall miss her every where.

Burial occurred at Hazel Grove cemetery Wednesday, Sept. 11. A loving one from us is gone, A voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God in his wisdom has recalled,
The boon his love has given
And though the body slumbers here
Her soul is safe in Heaven.

ALBERT HAYDEN OWENS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Owens died in Boonville Sept. 8th 1912, of a complication of diseases.

He was only sick one week and all that medical aid and tender nursing could do was done for the sufferer.

Little Hayden was born in Jefferson City, Sept. 29, 1911 and was fondly and lovingly cherished by his parents, grand parents and all. And though here but a few short months, he numbered his friends by scores for to know him was to love him. All who passed or was in his home, he greeted with his sweet baby smile.

His funeral services were conducted in the M. E. church hereby Rev. Cane of Malta Bend. The service was soul inspiring. The lovely floral offerings placed on the white casket was sweet evidence of the love born him and a beautiful tribute to his precious memory. He was buried in our beautiful cemetery.

The most beautiful fragrant flower, glistening with the pearly dew drops in the sheltered foliage is admired and desired by all. So it is with our precious little ones, nurtured with tender care in our homes, these are the ones God wants for His kingdom. They are His. He should have them. And so little Hayden is up there, awaiting beckoning to papa, mamma, and all. "Come this way". "Give Me thy heart." Jesus says and it is our duty to. And when the link is broken here, we look to the Golden Link which binds us to the Beautiful Realm above. Some day all who loved little Hayden can meet him to part no more. "For we never say Good Bye in Heaven."

Tribute from Mrs. A. E. Riley.

Hard One on Teddy

F. W. Elsner was over from Sweet Springs Tuesday and in conversation with a Mooser he was asked about the Sweet Springs sentiment. He said there were many Rooseveltians around Sweet Spring and ended by telling a good joke. A farmer asked him if he had read about all the horses dying in Kansas. He replied that he had, when the farmer said, "Don't you think the Bull Mooses will catch it too after a while?"

Fell Dead on Street

Will Wright, col., for several years janitor at the Elks Club rooms, was found dead early Tuesday morning by Louis Ferguson and Charlie Stewart on the walk in front of the county jail. Wright had returned from the excursion to Chicago Monday afternoon and remarked that he had considerable work at the club. He was subject to heart failure and this no doubt caused his death, the strain of the trip and later work bringing on an attack of heart failure.

He is survived by the wife and three children. He was a member of the North St. M. E. Church and of the Masonic lodge and was considered a good, steady man.

As he got off the train Monday he remarked to the editor, "Now you want to give me a good write up," but neither of us had any idea of its nature then.

Funeral services were held at the North Street church yesterday afternoon and burial in Fairview cemetery.

A Snake Story

A few days ago a blacksnake got into the Larly kitchen and started on a journey of exploration among the shelves. It soon discovered some eggs and swallowed one. It then crawled through the handle of a tin cup and swallowed another. After swallowing the second egg it found it could not go on through the handle of the tin cup, nor could it back out. It began to thresh about excitedly and fell off of the shelf with a loud clatter. Mrs. Larly came in to the kitchen just in time to see it scot out through the back door and disappear into some weeds. It had spent the day at the distillery and was returning home much the worse for his day's tipping. As he passed the store Mose Rodd came out and lectured him severely for his excessive drinking. He pictured him in the future going about the country with a tin cup asking alms. He was greatly moved and continued homeward in a study, no other vehicle being at hand. As he neared the house the snake, which had lately visited there, wiggled out of the weeds, coiled in the dust and prepared to defend itself from further humiliation. He was almost upon it before he saw it and the snake struck at him viciously. Seizing a club he prepared to smash the snake's head but seeing the tin cup he was overcome with compassion. Creeping up as close as he dared he dropped a coin into the cup, drew back and passed on the other side of the road.—Ex.

Mysterious Fire

While eating dinner at the Hayob Bros. farm east of town on Wednesday of last week, Emil Ohlendorf's separator was burned. He said they had pulled into the field and were preparing to thresh after dinner when the fire occurred. They discovered it too late to put out the fire. The direction of the wind was such that the engine could not have set it afire. Neither had there been any cause for friction, so that the crew believes the machine was set afire.

German Picnic a Success

The picnic given by the young people of the German Evangelical Church of Grand Pass on Thursday the 12th of September was a splendid success, and people from far and near were in attendance. The young people with the help of Messrs F. A. Bauer and Ernest Hotz, the merchants did not spare any labor and time to make it a success as it was their first attempt and all were inexperienced but did well. Total receipts were about $160 which netted them a nice surplus which will be used for purchasing an organ for the new church.

Through these lines the young people wish to express their heartiest thanks to all who came and helped and also wish to invite all to come back next year when we give another picnic.
